

Context Sentences for Use with PAVE Procedure Chapters 4 and 5

Chapter 4

Page 22 “That book was full of adventure—and an adventure was unquestionably what he was having right now.”

Page 23 “With a confident sort of swagger, the fellow was walking toward Jason.”

Page 24 “Stowaway, eh?”

“The slight British accent...was only an affectation.”

“One of my vast array of skills...”

Page 25 “At every irregular or high-pitched sound amid the overall cacophony, they were thrown into a kicking, rearing...panic.”

Chapter 5

Page 27 “That’s not much of an outfit you’ve got there.”

Page 28 “He’s got a vision.”

“Jason had denied his hunger long enough.”

Page 29 “The Kid gave him a long meaningful look with a hint of menace in it.”

“...four men playing cards in a sumptuous lounge with ornate furniture and green-and-gold scrollwork on the walls.”

Page 32 “Suddenly Barker was among the passengers he disdained, cheerful as a songbird...”

NOTE: Make a transparency of this page to use with students for the PAVE procedure. You may wish to do only the sentences marked  with the whole class. Alternately, you may assign a few different words to groups of students, and have the groups report their findings to the whole class.